INDEX OF 1997 TECHNICAL ATTACHMENTS

97-01	Jan	07	The Benefits of Higher Resolution in Representing Topography (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH-SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT)
97-02	Jan	14	Chaff Mixed with Radar Weather Echoes (Steve Vasiloff, NSSL/NWS, SSD and Mark Struthwolf, NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT)
97-03	Jan	21	Why is High Resolution Important in the West? An Early Look at the Eta-10 Model Output (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH-SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT)
97-04	Jan	28	Use of an Acoustic Wind Profiler (SODAR) at the Fork Fire for Continuous Upper Level Wind Profile and Stability Measurements (Fred Svetz - Interagency Fire Weather Unit - Redding, CA and Alexander N. Barnett, - AeroVironment Environmental Services Inc. - Monrovia, CA)
97-05	Feb	11	An Examination of an Outflow Boundary and Thunderstorm Initiation Along the Continental Divide of North-central Montana for 11 June 1995 (Donald J. Emanuel - NWSFO Great Falls, MT)
97-06	Feb	18	Current and Upcoming Changes to the Eta Models (Jon Mittelstadt - WRH, SSD - Salt Lake City, UT)
97-07	Feb	25	The Soil Model in the Eta (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH-SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT)
97-08	Feb	25	Creating a Presentation for the Telewriter Training System (Casidy Hallsten - WRH, SSD - Salt Lake City, UT)
97-09	Mar	25	The Navy Operational Global Atmospheric Prediction System (NOGAPS) (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WR-SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT)
97-10	Mar	25	High Reflectivity/non-severe Thunderstorm in Complex Terrain (Steve Vasiloff - NSSL - NWS, WRH-SSD Salt Lake City and Stephen Adams - NWSFO Reno, NV)
97-11	Mar	25	A December Severe Thunderstorm in Southwest Idaho (Chris Gibson - NWSFO Boise, ID)
97-12	Apr	01	Conditional Symmetric Instability Contributing to Heavy Precipitation in the Pacific Northwest (Russell Mann, NWSO Riverton, WY)
97-13	Apr	08	Quantitative Precipitation Forecast Activities of the NWSFO Reno During the December 1996 - January 1997 Flooding (Steven Goldstein - NWSFO Reno, NV)
97-14	Apr	22	Integrating the Spotter Program into the Modernized National Weather Service (Mark H. Strobin, John Livingston, and Kenneth Holmes - NWSO Spokane, WA)

97-15	May	20	Automated Packet Radio Bulletin Board System (Chris R. Hintz - NWSFO Portland, OR)
97-16	May	27	GOES Sounder Data Displayed as SKEWTs (Kevin J. Schrab - WRH/SSD Salt Lake City, UT)
97-17	Jun	03	Haines Index Climatology for the Western United States (John Werth - NWSO(FW) Olympia, WA and Paul Werth - NWSFO Boise, ID)
97-18	Jun	03	Results of the Western Region Evaluation of the Eta-10 Model (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT and Jon Mittelstadt - WRH SSD, Salt Lake City, UT)
97-19	Jun	10	A Localized Downslope Windstorm in Northern Arizona (Brian E. Tesar and Steve Keighton - NWSO Flagstaff, AZ)
97-20	Jun	17	National Lightning Data on the Western Region Wide Area Network (Andy Edman - WRH SSD, Salt Lake City, UT)
97-21	Jun	24	Microburst Prediction and Detection (Steve Vasiloff - NSSL - NWS/WRH/SSD Salt Lake City, UT)
97-22	Jul	01	Frontal Retardation Leading to the Development of the 9 July 1995 Oregon Supercell (Joe K. Solomon - NWSO Pendleton, OR)
97-23	Jul	08	Procedures for Ensuring Reliable Data Flow (Keith W. Meier and Jonathan Van Ausdall - NWSO Billings, MT)
97-24	Jul	15	Uncertainties in WSR-88D Measurements and their Impacts on Diagnosing Storm Structure (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH SSD/NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT and Steve Vasiloff - NSSL/WRH SSD, Salt Lake City, UT)
97-25	Jul	22	On the Nature of the WSR-88D Build 9 Hail Detection Algorithm - Part I: Review of the Algorithm and Operational Considerations (Brian A. Klimowski - NWS Rapid City, SD; Steve Vasiloff - NSSL/NWS WRH-SSD, Salt Lake City, UT; and Arthur Witt - NSSL Norman, OK)
97-26	Jul	22	On the Nature of the WSR-88D Build 9 Hail Detection Algorithm - Part II: Performance of the Algorithm Over Utah (Steve Vasiloff - NSSL/NWS WRH-SSD, Salt Lake City, UT; Randy Graham and James Nelson NWSFO - Salt Lake City; Brian A. Klimowski - NWS Rapid City, SD; and Arthur Witt - NSSL Norman, OK)
97-27	Jul	29	Cool Season Mesoscale Convective Trains (David W. Reynolds - NWSFO San Francisco Bay Area)
97-28	Aug	05	Another Example of a Dry Microburst (Steve Vasiloff - NSSL-NWS WRH/SSD, Salt Lake City and David Hogan - NWSFO Salt Lake City)
97-29	Aug	12	A Record Heat Wave Along the Central California Coast October 7-8, 1996 (Richard Canepa and Miguel Miller - NWSO San Joaquin Valley)
97-30	Aug	19	Freezing Rain Event Across Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho on December 9-11, 1995 (Paul Frisbie, Ronald J. Miller, and Todd Carter NWSO Spokane)
97-31	Sept	09	Recent Trends Associated with Spot Forecast Requests in Nevada (Michael W. Huston - NWSFO Reno)

97-32	Sept	17	A Brief Climatology Of The Relationship Between Afternoon Dew Points And Monsoonal Rainfall At Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport (Jesus A. Haro and Michael A. Bruce - NWSFO Phoenix)
97-33	Sept	23	ASOS Lightning Sensor Assessment (Glen Sampson - WRH Salt Lake City)
97-34	Sept	30	A Comparison of AVN and NGM Temperature and Precipitation Forecasts for Three Sites in Montana (John Blank - NWSFO Great Falls)
97-35	Oct	07	Interpretation of Radar Data During Snow Events in Mountainous Terrain (Steve Vasiloff - NSSL/NWS WRH-SSD)
97-36	Oct	21	El Niño: Is It Just A Bunch Of Hot Water? (Mike Staudenmaier, Jr. - WRH/SSD Salt Lake City, UT)
97-37	Nov	21	El Nino and California Precipitation (John Monteverdi, San Francisco State University, and Jan Null, NWSFO Monterey, CA)
97-38	Dec	02	The "Everify" Temperature and Precipitation Forecast Verification Program (David R. Eversole - NWSO Mobile, Alabama -- reprinted from Southern Region Technical Attachment)
97-39	Dec	23	The Severe Weather Event of 18 June 1997: An Example of Splitting Supercells (Randall Graham, NWSFO Salt Lake City, UT, and Mike Staudenmaier, NWSO Flagstaff, (formerly from NWSFO Salt Lake City/WRH-SSD)
97-40	Dec	30	Using Varied Enhancement Curves to Better Evaluate Fog and Stratus with RAMSDIS (Dan St. Jean - NWSFO Boise)
97-41	Dec	30	Index of 1997 Technical Attachments
